[redacted], maintained home his residence, 2703 Mercedes Street, Fort Worth, Texas, stated he had resided at this address since about the middle of July, 1963 with his wife, MARINA, and daughter, JUNE LEE OSWALD. He stated he has been employed as machinist for [redacted], 500-2 North Main Street (White Settlement Village), Fort Worth, since about July 15, 1962.

OSWALD stated contact had been made by [redacted] with the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., to advise the Embassy of his wife's current address, saying this is something that is required by Soviet law. He stated she would continue to make reports periodically to the Soviet Embassy in instances where they moved to another address.

OSWALD advised the matter of his having been given an undesirable discharge on August 17, 1959, from the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve by reason of civilianism has not been resolved, and, he did not know when the matter would be heard.

OSWALD volunteered he had never enjoyed his service in the U. S. Marine Corps. He also stated he had not enjoyed his trip to the Soviet Union any more than he had enjoyed his service in the U. S. Marine Corps.

OSWALD stated positively no individual had made any contact with him since his arrival in Fort Worth in the interest of the Soviet Union.

OSWALD denied he had on October 31, 1959, or any other time, requested his U. S. citizenship be revoked. He denied he ever took any steps to apply for Soviet citizenship. He advised he never at any time affirmed allegiance to the Soviet Union, but indicated a willingness to do so.

OSWALD stated when he first arrived in the Soviet Union, and also when he started to leave, he was interviewed by representatives of the MVD, which he characterized as being the secret police, who, for the most part handle criminal matters among the population generally. He stated their operation is widespread. He denied he ever made any "deals" with the MVD, and stated he was never asked to undertake anything or do anything for them.
